VIRTUAL LOANS ASSISTANT ROLE SCOPE

Build reliable virtual loan-processing support around your business needs.

Start with the work your team needs covered, the systems already in use and the level of responsibility required. We then define a role that fits your process and works alongside your existing team.

01 CRM and file setup

Maintain client records, application stages, notes, and document status in your nominated broker CRM.

02 Document coordination

Prepare checklists, follow up on outstanding documents, and keep files organised for broker review.

03	Serviceability preparation	Enter supplied client information into approved calculators and prepare results for broker review.
04	Forms and valuations	Coordinate valuation orders and prepare discharge, FHOG and other required forms in line with your process.
05	Lender research support	Compile lender product and policy information against criteria set by the broker, ready for broker assessment.
06	Lodgement to settlement	Support file lodgement, track application progress, coordinate updates, and follow up through to settlement.

SYSTEMS EXPERIENCE & REQUIREMENTS

Match the role to the tools you use.

Our virtual mortgage and loan processing support starts with the outcomes, recurring work, and systems that need coverage. We then define the role around tasks you can document, review, and integrate into your existing team.

WHEN TO HIRE A VIRTUAL LOANS ASSISTANT

Choose specialised support when loan processing needs more than general admin.

- ✓ Application administration is taking time away from client conversations and new business.
- ✓ Files need more consistent document follow-up, CRM updates, and status tracking.
- ✓ You need someone familiar with mortgage terminology, lender systems, and broker workflows.

- ✓ You want recruitment, onboarding, and ongoing team support managed through one provider.

MANAGED VIRTUAL SUPPORT FOR AUSTRALIAN MORTGAGE BUSINESSES

The role is managed beyond the initial match.

Virtual Office Angels manages the staffing relationship so your business can stay focused on loan-processing quality, client service, and growth. The role is supported around the systems, procedures, and working standards your business requires.

01 | Define the role

Set the tasks, systems, working hours, permissions, and outcomes expected from the role.

02 | Match the experience

Assess candidates against the mortgage experience, systems knowledge, and working style you need.

03 | Onboard the support

Introduce your virtual assistant to your systems, team, and documented procedures.

04 | Manage the relationship

Receive ongoing HR, payroll, and team support after placement.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE SERVICE

Mortgage & Loan Processing Virtual Assistant FAQs

Quick answers on role scope, systems, and responsibilities.

What can a mortgage processing virtual assistant do?

A mortgage processing virtual assistant can support the administrative work behind a loan file, including CRM updates, document coordination, serviceability preparation, valuations and forms, file lodgement, status tracking and settlement follow-up. We agree on the exact responsibilities during the role-planning stage of our HR-managed Virtual Support Solutions.

Can the virtual assistant work in our broker CRM?

Yes, where the role is matched to the relevant system experience. We confirm your CRM, loan-processing platforms, and other system requirements before assessing candidates for the role.

Does the virtual assistant provide credit advice?

No. The virtual assistant provides administrative support within your documented procedures and agreed authority. Credit advice, product recommendations, and decisions requiring professional judgement remain with the broker or appropriately authorised professional.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE SERVICE

Financial Planning & Admin Virtual Assistant FAQs

Quick answers on role scope, systems, and responsibilities.

What can a financial planning virtual assistant do?

A financial planning virtual assistant can support client administration, meeting and review preparation, CRM and software updates, provider follow-ups, document preparation, and agreed implementation tasks. The exact responsibilities are defined around your firm's processes and the level of support required.

Can the virtual assistant work in our financial planning software?

Yes, where the role is matched to the relevant system experience. We identify the platforms used by your business, such as XPlan and other financial planning or CRM systems, when defining the role and assessing suitable candidates.

Can the virtual assistant provide financial advice?

No. The virtual assistant supports administrative and preparation tasks within your firm's documented procedures. Financial advice, strategy decisions, recommendations, and other activities requiring professional authorisation remain with the appropriate adviser.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE SERVICE

Executive & Administrative Virtual Assistant FAQs

Quick answers about executive assistance, administrative responsibilities, and how the role fits into your existing business.

What can an executive and administrative virtual assistant do?

An executive and administrative virtual assistant can support inbox and calendar management, appointments, meeting coordination, customer enquiries, document administration, research, and recurring administrative tasks. Exact responsibilities depend on how your business operates.

Can the virtual assistant support a business owner or executive directly?

Yes. The role can be structured around the recurring administration and coordination a business owner, executive, or leadership team needs. Responsibilities, access, and approval levels are agreed before the role begins.

How is sensitive business information managed?

The role is defined around the systems, access requirements, and working procedures your business approves. You decide which information, accounts, and responsibilities form part of the role and which matters remain restricted to your internal team.

Can the role cover both executive support and general administration?

Yes. The role can combine executive coordination with recurring administrative work where that reflects your business needs. The responsibilities are defined during role planning so the candidate can be matched to the actual mix of work required.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE SERVICE

Digital Marketing Virtual Assistant FAQs

Quick answers about campaign execution, marketing channels, and how a digital marketing virtual assistant works with your existing strategy.

What can a digital marketing virtual assistant do?

A digital marketing virtual assistant can support content production, social media publishing, campaign coordination, analytics reporting, website updates, and approved SEO or search marketing tasks. The exact responsibilities depend on your channels, systems, and marketing plan. VOA's current service also covers graphic design, video editing, social media management, and website traffic monitoring.

Can the role focus on selected marketing channels?

Yes. The role can be built around the channels your business actively uses, such as social media, website content, search marketing, or campaign reporting. The required platform experience is considered during candidate matching.

Who approves campaigns and published content?

Your business sets the approval process. The virtual assistant works from approved briefs, content, budgets, and campaign instructions, while your authorized marketing team makes strategic decisions and gives final approval.

Can a virtual assistant help with SEO and digital advertising?

Yes. Where the candidate has relevant experience, the role can include approved SEO, SEM, and digital campaign support within the strategy, budgets, and access permissions set by your business. SEO, search engine marketing, and campaign support are all part of VOA's existing digital marketing service scope.

Can a virtual assistant help manage our Shopify store?

Yes. Where relevant Shopify experience forms part of the role, a virtual assistant can support routine store administration such as updating approved product information, maintaining customer and order details, and assisting with day-to-day e-commerce tasks. Access and responsibilities are set by your business.

Can the virtual assistant support lead generation and follow-up?

Yes. The role can include prospect research, lead-list development, CRM updates, and approved follow-up activity based on your sales process. Lead generation and inbound and outbound customer activity are already part of our existing sales virtual support services.

WHEN TO HIRE AN IT & TECHNOLOGY VIRTUAL ASSISTANT

Choose specialised support when website and technical tasks need regular attention.

- ✓ Website updates and plugin maintenance are being delayed because no one has clear ownership.
- ✓ Small technical issues are interrupting day-to-day work or remaining unresolved longer than they should.
- ✓ Website traffic and performance need regular monitoring rather than occasional checks.
- ✓ Your business needs ongoing WordPress or website support without relying on ad hoc technical fixes.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE SERVICE

IT Service & Technology Virtual Assistant FAQs

Quick answers about website maintenance, WordPress support, troubleshooting, and how virtual IT support works within your existing systems.

What can an IT virtual assistant support?

An IT virtual assistant can support website maintenance, WordPress administration, plugin updates, website troubleshooting, interface updates, traffic monitoring, and approved technical setup tasks. The exact responsibilities depend on your systems, access requirements, and technical needs. Our existing IT service also includes web development, mobile interface assistance, and product installation or configuration support.

Can a virtual assistant maintain our WordPress website?

Yes. Where relevant WordPress experience forms part of the role, a virtual assistant can support routine content changes, plugin updates, website maintenance, and approved technical adjustments. WordPress development and website maintenance are specifically included in VOA's current IT services.

Can the virtual assistant troubleshoot website problems?

Yes. The role can include investigating common website issues, carrying out approved fixes, and escalating problems that require higher-level technical expertise.

Can the role include website development work?

Yes, where the required development experience is part of the candidate brief. Our existing service includes website creation and development, mobile interface work, UI design assistance, and WordPress development.

COPYWRITING VIRTUAL ASSISTANT SERVICE SCOPE

Keep content moving from brief to publication.

Build the role around the content your business needs to produce regularly. We match the writing requirements, subject matter, and publishing workflow to a virtual assistant with relevant copywriting experience.

01 Article writing

Draft articles from approved topics, briefs, research, and brand guidelines for your website or publication schedule.

02 Website content

Write and update website copy using your approved messaging, service information, and target audience requirements.

03 Proofreading

Review content for grammar, clarity, consistency, spelling and formatting before it is approved for publication.

04 Content research

Research approved topics, sources and supporting information to help writers develop accurate, useful content.

05	Blog administration	Format and upload approved articles, manage blog details, and keep scheduled content organised in your CMS.
06	Publishing support	Prepare approved content for publication, update links and formatting, and complete agreed publishing checks.

SYSTEMS EXPERIENCE & REQUIREMENTS

WHEN TO HIRE A COPYWRITING VIRTUAL ASSISTANT

Choose specialised support when content production starts to fall behind.

- ✓ Articles and website updates are planned, but there is not enough writing capacity to produce them consistently.
- ✓ Drafts need regular proofreading and editing before they are ready to publish.
- ✓ Writers need research and source material organised before content production begins.
- ✓ Blog uploads, formatting and publication tasks are delaying an otherwise approved content schedule.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE SERVICE

Copywriting Virtual Assistant FAQs

Quick answers about writing, proofreading, publishing, and how a copywriting virtual assistant can fit into your content process.

What can a copywriting virtual assistant do?

A copywriting virtual assistant can support article writing, website content, proofreading, research, blog administration and publication. The role can be built around the types of content your business produces and the editorial process already in place.

Can the virtual assistant write in our brand voice?

Yes. Your brand guidelines, existing content, preferred terminology, and editorial requirements can form part of the onboarding process so the writer understands how your business communicates.

Can a copywriting virtual assistant research article topics?

Yes. Research can form part of the role where required. The virtual assistant can gather information and source material around approved topics to support article and website content development.

Can the virtual assistant upload and publish content?

Yes. Where your role includes publishing support, the virtual assistant can format and upload approved articles or website content through your CMS and complete agreed pre-publication checks.
